

I have (along with many other consumers) already spent over $12,000 in HDTV equipment, and will not be happy if it is changed to cover a possible copyright. This type technology is ALWAYS circumvented, and will not stop people.

Now, you are going to hurt thousands of consumers like myself by introducing a new standard for HDTV???